

Black Cherry (Prunus Serotina)

Height: Large; 20'-35' in twenty years; up to 50'-80' tall at maturity;

Width: 35'-50' spread

Shape: Irregular, upright

Growth: Fast growth rate

Light: Full sun, partial-sun, or shade

Leaves: Yellow leaves in fall

Flowers: White flowers in spring

Fruit: Self-pollinating; Purple or black cherries are edible

Soil: Acidic, moist; well-drained soil

Water: Medium use

Drought: Drought tolerant once established

Flood: Low tolerance

Disease: Moderate risk

NEW YORK
RESTORATION
PROJECT

